USTREAM.tv's recently launched iPhone application now has almost a million downloads. This isn't pure mobile television because it's pulling from uStream online feed via wi-fi as opposed to a broadcast signal; but it's showing the way for mobile video delivery and user experience.

Ustream is the second live video application on the iPhone after the U.K. based streaming television provider LiveStation.

This Ustream Viewing Application allows users to login with their account, view both live broadcast and recorded video, with interactive chat functionality, and search for live broadcast.
