DCM Portfolio Companies Bridgelux and MIOX Receive GoingGreen 100 Awards

MENLO PARK, Calif., Sept. 16, 2008 — DCM, an early stage venture capital firm supporting entrepreneurs building world-class technology companies, announced today that Bridgelux Inc. and MIOX Corp. were recognized as finalists in the AlwaysOn 2008 Going Green 100 Awards honoring the top private cleantech companies.

Bridgelux, an energy-saving LED technology innovator based in Sunnyvale, Calif., was recognized for its leadership in the “Energy Efficiency and Energy Management” category. Honored in “Water Technology and Water Management,” Albuquerque, N.M.-based MIOX is a leading developer of advanced water treatment systems.

“Bridgelux and MIOX are great companies with market-tested technologies and globally sustainable business models,” said Peter Moran, a General Partner of DCM. “Being recognized as top-100 companies is a reflection of their outstanding teams and technologies, hard work and unwavering commitment to thrive in their respective sectors.”

DCM General Partner Tom Blaisdell added, “Our investments span a range of innovative companies and sectors, and we continue to seek viable opportunities in renewable energies such as solar and wind, energy storage and efficiency as well as natural resource management.”

GoingGreen’s evaluation board reviewed more than 500 nominated companies and identified 100 global leaders.
